Going concern

The company's financial plans have been reviewed and the Board are satisfied that these plans are affordable and that the financial statements should be prepared on a going concern basis.

The board have reviewed the company's financial forecasts for the two years ended 31 March 2023, to ensure they reflect the risks and financial impacts as relevant and proportionate to our business. This included an assessment of the potential ongoing impact of Covid-19.

The company was swift to adapt and implement the Government guidance on social distancing, reviewing and adjusting the associated operating environment and processes.

A further local or national outbreak of COVID-19 cannot be ruled out and additional measures may be taken by the Government to contain this, which are unknown and uncontrollable. However, the company has effective controls and processes in place to manage and monitor cashflows. On this basis, the board consider it appropriate for the financial statements to be prepared on a going concern basis.

Turnover

Revenue from the provision of labour on an agency basis is recognised when the company has charged a third party for the relevant supply and it is probable that the Company will receive the previously agreed upon payment. These criteria are considered to be met when the services are invoiced to the buyer.

Pension costs

Contributions to the company's defined contribution pension scheme are charged to the profit and loss account in the year in which they become payable. The assets of the scheme are held separately from those of the company in an independently administered fund.

Holiday pay accrual

A liability is recognised to the extent of any unused holiday pay entitlement which has accrued at the balance sheet date and carried forward to future periods. This is measured at the undiscounted salary cost of the future holiday entitlement so accrued at the balance sheet date.

Current and deferred taxation

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except that a charge attributable to an item of income or expense recognised as other comprehensive income or to an item recognised directly in equity is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date in the countries where the company's subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income.

Deferred balances are not recognised in respect of any timing differences that have originated but not reversed by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax balances are not recognised in respect of permanent differences except in respect of business combinations, when deferred tax is recognised on the differences between the fair values of assets acquired and the future tax deductions available for them and the differences between the fair values of liabilities acquired and the amount that will be assessed for tax.

Debtors

Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount due after any trade discount offered. Prepayments are valued at the amount prepaid net of any trade discounts due.

Financial instruments

The company only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value.

Cash at bank and in hand

Cash at bank and in hand includes deposits which can be withdrawn within 24 hours without penalty and short term deposits which have a maturity period of 3 months or less and are not subject to significant risk of changes in value.

Liabilities

Liabilities are recognised once there is a legal or constructive obligation to make a payment to a third party, it is probable that settlement will be required and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably.

2 Judgements in applying accounting policies and key sources of estimation uncertainty

Recoverability of debt

The directors consider the greatest source of uncertainty to be recoverability of debt. At the point which a debt becomes doubtful, a bad debt provision for the full value of the debt is made and charged to the income statement. All other debtors are subject to a general bad debt provision of 2% of the outstanding balance of debt.
